

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

for the use of images provided by OCTANORM-Vertriebs-GmbH

1. The use of images (photos, artworks and other materials of OCTANORM-Vertriebs-GmbH) may only be used for presentations, publications and editorial purposes within the scope of reporting on OCTANORM. It is free of charge. Other uses are only permitted in justified cases and require prior written consent of OCTANORM.
2. In the case of publication in printed products, "OCTANORM / name of photographer (as stated in the press release)" must be indicated as the source of the image. OCTANORM is to be provided with a free specimen copy.
3. Any use beyond the scope outlined in section 1, in particular for commercial or advertising purposes, is not allowed. Should it be unclear whether the use can be considered „editorial“, OCTANORM must be asked for a decision before publication.
4. Copying of images beyond the scope specified in section 1 is not permitted. This also applies to digital reproductions and storage devices of all kinds.
5. Photos must not be transferred to third parties without prior written consent of OCTANORM.
6. All images provided remain the property of OCTANORM and are to be returned immediately after use or else within six weeks after delivery at the latest. Until their return, they must be marked as OCTANORM property, kept in a secure place and protected against damage and misuse.
7. In the event of loss, damage or inadmissible use of the images, OCTANORM reserves the right to claim compensation for damages.
